

How do I view the announcements on Google Docs?

Students should make a habit of checking Google Docs for the announcements at least once a day. There is a lot of important information on Google Docs. The tech department and library use it as the main way of communicating special announcements to students.

